

NEVADA STATE JOURNAL

SUNDAY, JANUARY 1, 1899.

New Year's comes on Sunday. Monday is a legal holiday. The Journal mechanical force are all churchmen including the devil. The pencil pushers are lazy, and for all of those reasons combined, there will be no paper issued from this office until next Wednesday morning.

NEW YEARS.

Eighteen hundred and ninety-eight has passed into the record of departed time, and this morning's sun dawned upon the first day of the calendar which has marked the progress of time since the advent of the Christian era. The departed year has been prolific with events which have controlled the world, and have been of extraordinary importance in the history of our beloved country. A brief but successful war has been waged with a foreign nation which has freed millions of people from despotic rule, and placed them under the fostering care and protection of our own beneficent Republic. The entire political policy of the United States has been changed, so far as its foreign relations are concerned, and placed our country in a position, which will not only enable it to successfully cope in arms with the greatest and most powerful European nations, but has exalted it to the merited title of the great National Friend and Protector of the World's Oppressed. This has been part of the history of the last year and God grant such wisdom to our statesmen that the present one will add to our laurels, by such judicious action as will further glorify our nation by so supplementing the patriotism and bravery of our army and navy, with such wisdom and justice by our executive and legislative branches, as will merit the world's approbation as it started it by our proficiency in arms.

To-day is a good time to reflect upon the experiences of the past year, and to form such resolutions as will tend to profit us by continuance of that which is praiseworthy, and the avoidance of such follies and vices in the new year as have blotted the record of the old one.

Hoping that our readers, old and young, and middle-aged will profit by such reflection, the JOURNAL wishes them a Happy New Year.

WILL IT BE PERMITTED?

We call the attention of our readers to an article from the Carson News which appears to-day on the local page. If the News is correct, Senator Stewart is about to inaugurate another feature in the system of lobbying in Nevada. After being rejected by the people and failing to obtain a sufficient number of votes to secure his election, the wretched old man, in his desperation, proposes to terrorize the Legislature by importing a gang of professional gun and knife fighters to intimidate members who are weak and cowardly enough to be swayed from their duty through fear of powder, lead and steel. That is the only use to which that class of ruffians can be put. If this is not enough to abate every silver party member who imagined that the action of his State convention, although nullified by the people, from his supposed obligation to vote for a man, whom in his heart he despises, he must indeed be as destitute of intelligence as of manhood. In the law-abiding and respectable citizens of Carson, or the State, permit this infamous scheme to be carried into effect, at the capital city, our poor little Nevada, will deserve the additional appellation of "Carson Commonwealth" to that of rotten borough. But we don't believe they will.

The legal status of the inhabitants of the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico under annexation, will be determined by Congress. These people will not necessarily become American citizens when we have taken their countries. Their allegiance to their former sovereign will have expired, and they will become amenable to the laws of the new government proclaimed over them. In a sense they will be subjects, under international law, of President McKinley, but citizenship and its privileges can be denied them so long as Congress will.

All children of those inhabitants, however, born after the proclamation of American sovereignty, will be citizens of the United States, under the Federal Constitution.

The Appeal, at the time Utah was admitted as a State called attention to the fact that Mormons did not consider a pledge made to non-Mormons binding. The result has been just as might have been expected. Uncle Sam has been humbugged to the queen's taste.

But perhaps Congress will avenge our venerable uncle by returning the three-ply-polygamies to his associates who "do not consider a pledge to a non-Mormon binding." Then the laugh would be on the other side.

Since Mr. Bryan doffed his military cap he is being subjected again to all manner of abuse by the goldbug press. The bitterness of it suggests that Mr. Bryan has grown several inches and is now a more formidable person than ever.

The Boston Globe says that Brigham Young's bones must be stirring these days, when his own grandson leads the attack against polygamy and polygamous Congressmen.

It may be suggested that a little less military brusqueness and a little more statesmanship and diplomacy might work wonders in and around Havana just now. The Cuban insurgents may not have turned out all that they were considered before our troops went to the island, but they are human beings, just the same, with natural feelings of their own—a fact which some of our military chieftains seem strangely oblivious of.

The Appeal advises the News to be a little more careful in its abuse of Nagle. Good advice unless the News man has his artillery ready for action.

Fifty years of progression in the far west has developed wonderful changes and improvements. Everything else has changed since '49, and it devolved upon Loofborrow, the Oash Grocer, and the poor man's friend to come to the rescue within the hair-breadth two months of time completing the half century, and give the people groceries, and general merchandise at reasonable rates. NEVADA EXHIBITS RECOGNIZED.
Colonel Maxson Returns With the Trophies Awarded Exhibitors From This State at the Omaha Exposition.
Colonel Maxson returned from the Omaha Exposition on Friday evening, having completed the packing and shipping of the Nevada exhibit. The Colonel brought back thirty awards consisting of thirteen gold, silver and bronze medals and seventeen handsome diplomas. This does not speak so badly for Nevada's show at the Exposition and certainly puts the unfavorable criticisms of certain papers and individuals in rather a questionable light for truth and veracity. However, the Colonel is not at all ruffled over the situation as he has the medals and documents to prove that the exhibit was appreciated abroad if not by some of our home people and the sale of two mines and negotiations in progress for others, besides a number of new settlers who have come into the State attracted by the Nevada exhibit is a recognition for the State that the petty jealousies and vicious slaps at the Colonel cannot prevent. The following awards were made by the committees of the Omaha Exposition to Exhibitors from the State of Nevada, which were displayed by H. B. Maxson, Vice-President for Nevada, at the Exposition: Riverside Mill Co., Nevada Flour; Elko Rolling Mill, Nevada Flour; Nevada State Agricultural College, hullless barley and oats; B. F. Leese, dairy salt; State of Nevada, grains and grasses; State of Nevada, collective agricultural exhibit, mineral; A. Laird, Eureka, district ores; Booher & Albert, Elko, mineral soap; Phillip Deidesheimer, San Francisco, model of timbering Comstock mines; J. A. Blossom, Battle Mountain, gold, silver, lead, and antimony ores; E. Penrod, Gold Creek, free milling gold ores; Fellows and Job, Winnemucca, mineral and marble specimens; Wm. Hayes, Ely, free milling gold ores; Joe Grandel-meyer, Hamilton, building stone, gold, silver and lead ores; P. H. Cannon, Obery Creek, ores from Star Mine; Daniel Bonnell, mica; D. B. Lyman, Virginia, Con. Virginia Mine specimens; Jack Hill, Virginia City, infusorial earth; C. S. Nixon, Winnemucca, crude sulphur; Marmol Marble Co., Verdi, variegated marble; State of Nevada, State Museum collection; J. A. Beltzer, Bullion, Elko county, collection from Bullion camp; J. A. Yerington, Carson, sulphuric pyrites, copper, silver and lead ores; Emmons & Lovelocks, Lovelocks, iron ores; D. V. Dwight, Salmon river, Elko county, copper ores from Contact camp; Wm. Emrich, Reno, gold, silver and copper ores; Switzer & Boyser, Lovelocks, nickel and cobalt ores; Glasgow Exploration Co., Gold-cinda, copper ores.
This makes thirty awards given the Nevada Exhibit, among which are thirteen medals, consisting of gold, silver and bronze.
A Highly Appreciated New Year's Gift.
The JOURNAL was the recipient last evening of a box of good cigars presented by the firm of Block & Clausen with their compliments and a wish for a Happy New Year, a feeling that they desire extended to all their patrons and friends, whom they number by legions. While thanking the gentlemen for their good will we wish to refer to the handsome display of good things made in the window of the lunch counter over which Mr. Clausen has personal supervision. It is tastefully decorated with evergreens and in the center suspended from the ceiling is the carcass of one of the fattest of sheep, such as only Nevada can produce, the whole body being covered with flowers and other designs made by the butcher who dressed it. On either side of the window there are venison hams and fat turkeys, and beneath is two fat pigs and the choicest steaks to be had from a beef. On the outside hanging near the window was a large deer, probably the last to be placed in the market this year as the close season goes into effect to-day. Mr. Clausen heard that the deer was being brought into town and with his usual enterprise went out on the road and met the slayers of his deer and secured it in order that his customers might have all the market affords to select from for a New Year's dinner. In addition he has sagehen, ducks, and, in fact, anything that an epicure might desire. One good look at what is presented in that window will cure the worst case of dyspepsia ever known. Mr. Block presides over the liquid department of the establishment and the large patronage he receives testifies that he has no superior in that line. The best of cooks and accommodating waiters are always employed and all are assured of first-class service and all that the market affords.

To the Board of School Trustees—GENTLEMEN:—I respectfully submit herewith my report for the school month ending December 16, 1898.

Preventive Not Cure.
I. B. Stearns, who is stopping at the Palace Hotel, is agent for the Pasteur Vaccine Co. of Chicago. The JOURNAL made a mistake yesterday in stating that he is introducing a cure for black-leg in cattle. There is no known cure for blackleg in cattle. There is no known cure for that bovine disease, but Mr. Stearns' remedy is a prevention, in the shape of vaccine matter which prevents blackleg, as vaccination does smallpox in the human family.
Five Thousand Dollars Wanted.

STEWART'S LOBBY.
It is to be Reinforced by Professional Gun-Fighters and Thugs.
It is understood that the Southern Pacific Railroad lobby in Carson this winter, that will watch the company's interests in electing Stewart will be as follows:
O. C. Wallace, Stephen Gage, Col. Jack Chinn, David Nagle and Will Virgin.
The first named is too well known to Nevada to need any further introduction to the people of Carson. He has heretofore held the distinction of having more power than any other one man in the United States. His will has been Nevada's law generally and his course through the political forest is not blazed by the failures he has made. It is believed that the present year is the first in many in which he has recorded a single failure. He represents the interests of the railroad in Nevada the year round.
Stephen Gage once occupied the position now held by Wallace, in this State, but becoming proficient in the art of man-manipulating he was transferred to California where the field was greater and his talents were called into full play. Here his occupation of influencing legislators and election flourished for many years and he was considered the king of the lobbyists and any particular and important job the railroad might have on hand (not necessarily in the interest of the people, either) was entrusted to him alone. He was so successful that he is reported very wealthy—even a millionaire by some. That he will appear on the scene this winter plainly indicates the importance of Stewart's election to the Southern Pacific. Gage has already made one trip into Douglas county, presumably on this business.
Colonel Jack Chinn is an importation from Kentucky. He was formerly a famous race horse man and his name is familiar to all sporting men. It is presumed, however, that he has been in the employ of the Southern Pacific railroad for some years and he will give the fractious legislator anything he wants from argument to a fist or gun fight. It was he who caused the dead lock in the Kentucky legislature some years ago on United States Senator and it was his nice work with the members of the legislature that prevented the Southern Pacific from losing its charter two years ago when the Kentucky legislature was in session. He has had several deals and is supposed to know which end of a gun to point outward. He arrived on the train with Senator Stewart the other day and it is given out that he is here to purchase horses of Winters—at least that is what a member of the Stewart retinue told the News.
Chinn will be flanked by Dave Nagle who is a very choice importation—in his way. He is the man who shot and killed Judge Terry in a restaurant some years ago in cold blood and at that time was supposed to be for sale to anyone who needed a first class gun fighter, and went on the reputation of being a very bad man. He has a record which would look nice framed as a companion piece to Stewart's and with which all readers of newspapers are familiar and Carson will not be greatly honored by his presence—that is, not very much.
Will Virgin is a Genoa raised young man and recently has taken a great interest in politics. He was engaged a few weeks ago by some of the Stewartites to circulate a petition in Douglas county praying the members of the Legislature there to vote for Stewart, with what success he declines to say. It is understood that he was selected by Gage.
How much further the program runs the News is sorry to admit it has not learned, for this paper for some unaccountable reason, is not in on the ground floor in railroad and Stewart circles. It is trusted that Stewart will not overlook Wyatt Earp and if he is still short of material he might get in and do a little lobbying himself.
